PUPIL INFORMATION SHEET VISIT 2

Help us improve our new maths tool

You're one of a small group of pupils invited to give feedback on a new maths tool! Your school is working with Eedi, a company that makes maths tools for schools, on a project with the Department for Education.

Last time we visited, pupils shared their ideas → Now see what we've changed

Taking part is your choice. If you'd rather not take part, just let your teacher know.

What is this about?

Eedi is on a mission to help a billion students around the world learn better by 2030. We're building a new maths tool, and we'd like you to test it and tell us what you really think.

We visited your school recently to hear what pupils thought, and we've been busy making changes based on that feedback. Now we're back to see what you think of the new version!

We're not testing you or your maths. We're testing the maths tool.

What will happen?

You'll spend around 45 minutes meeting Eedi researchers with a small group of pupils from your year.

1 See what's changed
We'll show you what we've been working on, based on what pupils told us last time.

2 Compare and tell us
We'll show you some side-by-side comparisons and ask for your honest opinion.

3 Try the website
You'll get to try out the website for yourself.

There are no right or wrong answers.

Do I have to take part?

No. It's up to you, and nobody will mind if you say no.

- ✓ You can stop at any time.
- ✓ You can skip any question you don't want to answer.
- ✓ If you change your mind afterwards and don't want us to use what you said, tell your teacher.

Will you record it?

Yes, but only the sound. We'll record what everyone says so we don't have to write it all down. We won't film you or take photos.

Who will know what I said?

We'll use your first name during the session, but we won't put your name in anything we write up or share.

We'll write up what we learn to help us improve the tool, and we may share a summary with the Department for Education. We might use some of the things you said, but never who said them.

Any questions?

Ask your teacher, or email Eedi at chelsea.burdett@eedi.com. You can find out more about how we look after your information in our privacy notice.
